CLOTHING WORKERS AFTER MORE MEMBERS

The Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America have started a campaign to organize the 50,000 tailors of Chicago. Organizers of the union in other cities have come to Chicago, where they will work under the joint board of the garment workers.

The first of a series of mass meetings has been called for Monday evening, March 22, at 8 o'clock, in Hod Carriers' hall, Halsted and Harrison.

The meeting will be addressed by Jacob Paken, att'y for the Brotherhood of Tailors; Sidney Hillman, international president of the clothing workers, and Rose Schneiderman, general organizer of the International Ladies' Garment Workers.

Two hundred thousand circulars have been distributed, printed in all languages, calling on the tailors to unite. 10,000 handbills announcing the meeting have been distributed and the big hall is expected to be filled.

"Propaganda work has been going on quietly for some time," said Frank Rosenblum, general executive board member. "The tailors are enthusiastic and I expect to see Chicago as well organized as New York, or any other of the large eastern cities, within a few months.

"At present our union has nine locals with 10,000 members. There are nearly 50,000 unorganized tailors in Chicago. The conditions in this trade in this city are the worst in the country. Our aim is to improve them and we intend to do so."
